

ABOUT

Level Playground website is for parents, caregivers and early childhood educators who are passionate about raising children who can be their true selves. On the website, you'll find lots of fun ideas and activities to encourage children to learn, read and play without being restricted by their gender.

OUR HOPES

We hope to inspire a new generation of children who grow up not limited by their gender.

- They are no longer told to be 'tough boys' or 'pretty girls'
- They have not bought toys based on colour
- Their clothing is appropriate for the activities they love and in a colour that they choose because they like it.

KEY FEATURES OF WEBSITE

On the website, you will find:

- Learn- activities that you can use to build a safe and supportive environment where children can explore their interests
- Play- games, toys and activities that let kids be kids and break away from gender stereotypes
- Read- booklists and tips on creating conversations with children.
