

Looking to expand your family violence practice knowledge?

FREE

MARAM (Multi-Agency Risk Assessment and Management) COLLABORATIVE PRACTICE TRAINING

LEARN HOW TO:

- Understand the MARAM framework
- Identify what collaborative practice is
- Use collaborative practice to maintain perpetrator visibility
- Develop a collaborative risk management plan
- Outline how information sharing can enhance collaborative practice
- Implement processes for secondary consultation & referral in the local service system

EDVOS is offering free MARAM Collaborative Practice training sessions to Tier 2, 3 & 4 professionals who respond to family violence in the Eastern Metropolitan Region. Training is held ONLINE using Zoom and runs for 6 hours (including 3 breaks). Participants are required to attend the whole day.

BOOK NOW VIA EVENTBRITE:

www.eventbrite.com.au/e/maram-collaborative-practice-training-tickets-116679021093

MARAM Collaborative Practice Training FAQ

WHAT IS MARAM COLLABORATIVE PRACTICE TRAINING?

MARAM Collaborative Practice Training is for professionals who respond to family violence to learn the collaborative practice and the foundational aspects of MARAM that enable collaboration.

The training enables participants to contribute to risk assessment and collaborate for ongoing risk assessment and management, through respectful and sensitive engagement with victim survivors, information sharing, referral and secondary consultation.

WHO SHOULD COME TO TRAINING?

The training is available to all professionals who respond to family violence in the Eastern Metropolitan Region. While relevant to all professionals from prescribed and non-prescribed organisations, given the availability of other MARAM training at the time of its release, training is best suited to professionals from Tiers 2, 3 and 4 of the Victorian Government Responding to Family Violence Capability Framework (2017). This includes workers in core support or intervention agencies, mainstream and non-family violence specific support agencies and universal services and organisations.

This is NOT risk assessment training. You will also need to attend other MARAM training relevant to your role. MARAM training will be delivered by government departments and Domestic Violence Resource Centre Victoria (DVRCV) and progressively rolled out in 2020.

I HAVE ATTENDED OTHER MARAM TRAINING. IS THIS TRAINING STILL RELEVANT TO ME?

Yes. The MARAM Collaborative Practice training sits alongside the other MARAM modules. It does not replicate the content of the other sessions, but enhances a professional's understanding of collaborative practice under the MARAM.

HOW SHOULD I PREPARE FOR TRAINING?

Prior to training all participants are required to:

- Download and read the MARAM Collaborative Practice Participant Guide
- Read the MARAM Online Training Safety Sheet
- Watch Helping end family violence - the Information Sharing Schemes and MARAM
- Complete a pre-training evaluation survey

These resources will be emailed to participants after they have registered for training through Eventbrite. Participants must read and have a copy of the Participant Guide to refer to during online training.

Need further info or have questions? Contact EDVOS at training@edvos.org.au or 9259 4200